Wayne Gretzky's Arrival: In 1988, the Kings made one of the biggest trades in sports history by acquiring Wayne Gretzky from the Edmonton Oilers. Gretzky's arrival not only elevated the team's success but also significantly boosted hockey's popularity in Southern California.

Home Arena: The Kings play at Crypto.com Arena (formerly Staples Center), which they share with the NBA's Los Angeles Lakers and Clippers. The arena has been the site of numerous historic moments in hockey and basketball.
