Founding Legacy as an Original Team:

The New York Liberty were founded in 1997 as one of the WNBA's eight original teams. Playing at Madison Square Garden, the Liberty helped launch the league's popularity with high attendance and an energetic fanbase, establishing themselves as one of the WNBA's pioneering franchises.

First WNBA Championship in 2024: After 28 seasons and five previous Finals appearances, the Liberty finally secured their first WNBA title in 2024. This historic victory marked the first professional basketball championship for New York City since the Knicks' title in 1973.

Ownership by Joe Tsai and Clara Wu Tsai: The acquisition of the Liberty by Joe and Clara Tsai in 2019 revitalized the franchise, providing new resources and supporting social justice causes.
