JETS

The Return to Winnipeg: The current Winnipeg Jets were founded in 2011 after the Atlanta Thrashers relocated to Manitoba. This marked the return of NHL hockey to Winnipeg after the original Jets moved to Phoenix in 1996 and became the Arizona Coyotes.

Whiteout Tradition: The Winnipeg "Whiteout" is one of the most famous playoff traditions in the NHL. It started in 1987 when fans dressed entirely in white to support their team during the playoffs, and it has continued with the new Jets franchise.
