Founded in 2006: The Sky was one of the first WNBA teams not directly affiliated with an NBA counterpart, pioneering a path as an independent franchise in a large sports market.

Notable Draft Picks: In the past, the Sky has made several impactful draft selections, such as Diamond DeShields and Kahleah Copper, both of whom contributed significantly during the 2021 title run.

First WNBA Championship: Led by hometown hero Candace Parker, the Sky won their first WNBA title (2021), overcoming a tough Phoenix Mercury team in the Finals. Parker's leadership and veteran presence were key to this historic win.
