The Bad Boys Era: Led by Isiah Thomas, Joe Dumars, and Bill Laimbeer, the Pistons were known for their tough, defensive play, earning backto-back championships in 1989 and 1990.

2004 Championship: The 2004 Pistons shocked the world by defeating the heavily favored Los Angeles Lakers in five games, led by Chauncey Billups, Richard Hamilton, Ben Wallace, and Rasheed Wallace.

New Arena: In 2017, the Pistons moved to Little Caesars Arena, marking their return to downtown Detroit after decades of playing in Auburn Hills.

Grant Hill's Impact: Hill was the face of the Pistons in the 1990s, a seven-time All-Star known for his versatility, though his time in Detroit was cut short by injuries.
