Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my interest in the Inventory Analyst position with Bird Stairs. With several years of experience supporting inventory, purchasing, warehouse, and operational systems within a manufacturing environment, I believe my combination of analytical, technical, and hands-on operational experience would allow me to contribute effectively to your team.

In my previous role as a Process and Systems Analyst, I worked extensively with inventory reporting, reconciliation, ERP systems, purchasing support, discrepancy investigation, and operational process improvement. I regularly investigated inventory discrepancies, supported inventory reconciliation efforts, maintained reporting systems, and collaborated with warehouse, sales, procurement, and production teams to improve operational accuracy and efficiency.

In addition to my systems experience, I also gained direct warehouse and inventory operations experience through hands-on shipping and receiving responsibilities. This gave me a practical understanding of inventory movement, stock control, documentation accuracy, and the day-to-day operational challenges faced by warehouse teams. I believe this combination of analytical and operational experience allows me to approach inventory control from both a systems and practical operations perspective.

I am particularly interested in this opportunity because of Bird Stairs' strong reputation across Atlantic Canada and its commitment to operational excellence and continuous improvement. I would welcome the opportunity to contribute my attention to detail, problem-solving abilities, and process-oriented mindset to your organization.

Thank you for your time and consideration. I would appreciate the opportunity to discuss how my background and experience align with your team's needs. I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,
Avery Briggs
